MARCH 2010

CATHERINE'S ITALIAN KITCHEN IN ASSOCIATION WITH MIELE AT TASTE OF DUBLIN

Celebrity Chef, Food Writer and Cookery Teacher, Catherine Fulvio, has teamed up with Miele, to host an energetic demo of traditional Italian dishes 'Catherine's Italian Kitchen' at Taste of Dublin. This exciting feature will demonstrate a wide range of delectable treats for all the family including strawberry brownies, roast butternut squash ravioli and Italian bread filled with mozzarella and Parma ham in the state of the art Miele kitchen.

This will be Miele's third year at Taste of Dublin, at which they have enjoyed great success, and their first year to work with the highly acclaimed Catherine Fulvio. Catherine has presented the RTE television series, 'Catherine's Italian Kitchen' and has just completed filming for her second Italian cookery series, 'Catherine's Roman Holiday' which will air on RTE later in the year. Her cooking style is easy and relaxed and her informal and energetic approach to food has made her cookery classes at Ballyknocken Cookery School in Wicklow a firm favourite with families all over Ireland. Catherine is married to a Sicilian man, Claudio Fulvio and they have two young children. Her first book, 'Catherine's Italian Kitchen' will be published by Gill & McMillan in the autumn of 2010.
