

April 2011

MasterCool New American-size series with European quality

Cooling giants with style

The term 'refrigerator' doesn't quite fit the bill! With their impressive size, MasterCool refrigeration appliances from Miele are the last word in refrigeration. Elegant in design, these cool giants boast unbeatable inner and outer values. Thanks to their versatility and energy efficiency, they rise to meet every challenge with ease.

Refrigerators, freezers, fridge-freezer combinations and wine conditioning units can be combined to meet individual needs and storage requirements. Installation is uncomplicated and the range consists of fully integrated models in widths between 44 and 90 cm.

The quality of design married with international requirements also includes stunning interior lighting: Multiple halogen spots ensure an inner cabinet flooded with light. The clear, linear design of the units is captivating. Interior panels and the door present smooth, practical surfaces. Aluminium profiles and high-quality materials such as metal and glass set the tone and underline the elegance of these premium products.

But it isn't just outer appearances that impress: MasterCool also excels in terms of energy efficiency, innovative features and by offering the best possible storage conditions for food. Several drawers, each with their own microclimate, guarantee freshness, based on an ideal blend of temperatures slightly above 0°C and humidity levels to suit the needs of different types of food. Convenient electronic controls allow settings to be adjusted for each drawer individually. All drawers run on telescopic tracks and can be pulled clear of the unit. Instead of the usual moulded side runners, shelving rests on height-adjustable tracks in the rear of the cabinet. Individual shelves are virtually infinitely height-adjustable and are simply hooked in place. This allows space in both the cabinet and the door to be put to best use. Through-the-door ice and water dispensing is also available in selected lines. Chilled water, fresh ice cubes or crushed ice is available at the push of a button.

- ENDS -

For further information please contact Laura Dwyer or Sandra Morris at Kennedy PR on 01 476 2000 or email ldwyer@kennedypr.ie or smorris@kennedypr.ie